D. Twigg, St. John.....Left half-back.....Narfeet, Watts, and Porcher, Virginia Military Institute, McLaw, Vaughan, Sorell, Peterson, V. J. Twigg, Wile, Stearns, and Lawson.

WHERE WEIGHT TOLD.

The result of the game proved that fortune favors the heaviest battalion, and when at last time called the victors, an eagle perched on the Lexington lads' banners by a score of 10 to 6. The teams drove to the goals, each with a score of 10 to 6. The game was witnessed by 1,500 people. There were present numbers of the faculties of both colleges. The utmost good order and good feeling prevailed, and fortunately no one bears more than a slight bruise after the hard-fought battle.

POSTER'S RUN.

The feature of the game was Foster's brilliant run. He carried the ball around Blackburg's right for a touchdown. He was aided by superb interference, and made several other long dashes. The tackling and ground gaining of Massie, formerly of the University of Virginia, and Guinnard's running were the star performances of the Blacksburgs' play. REJOICING OVER THE VICTORY.

Students at Lexington Turn Out to Welcome the Winning Eleven.

LEXINGTON, VA., November 29.—(Special.)—The day here has been closely observed by thanksgiving, Washington and Lee University, Virginia Military Institute, public and private schools, and every branch of business were suspended, and but for the enthusiasm produced by the report of the Virginia Military Institute's victory in football—10 to 6—over the cadets of the Blacksburg Military School, played at Staunton, and the fact that the winning eleven had been crowned on this day, the day was more of a Sunday observance.

The victorious team was met at the Union Depot by several hundred cadets and citizens, and marched through town to the step of martial music, and a continuous round of cheers and college yells.

Roanoke Defeat Lynchburg.

ROANOKE, VA., November 29.—(Special.)—This afternoon a game of football was played between the eleven of the Roanoke Young Men's Christian Association, with a score of 22 to 9 in favor of the Roanoke boys.

FALL OF PORT ARTHUR.

Alleged Unnecessary Slaughter of Chinese Denied by Japanese Officers.

LONDON, November 29.—The correspondent of the Central News at Tokio telegraphs as follows:

"Details of the fall of Port Arthur are now beginning to arrive. The number of Chinese killed in the engagement was about 200, most of whom were slain during the bombardment of the place on November 29. The statements that there was a massacre of Chinese after the fall of the place, after having been circulating in consequence of the mutilation and torture of Japanese soldiers, are absolutely denied by the Japanese officers in command. During the attack upon Port Arthur a large force of Chinese, from Foo-chow and beyond Kin-chow, attacked the latter place, but the Japanese soldiers repulsed them, after severe fighting, with heavy loss to the Chinese. The Japanese loss was twenty killed and sixty wounded. Several Japanese soldiers were killed by the Chinese after the fall of the place, and the Japanese army has passed through the Manchurian passes and are now in possession of the city of Liak-yang, forty miles from Moukden."

A dispatch to the Central News from Tokio, dated November 29, says that the Japanese army has passed through the Manchurian passes and are now in possession of the city of Liak-yang, forty miles from Moukden."

CAPT. ERNEST WILTZ.

A FORMER RESIDENT OF RICHMOND DYING IN JACKSONVILLE.

He Fell from a Stairway and Sustained Fatal Injuries.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., November 29.—(Special.)—Captain Ernest Wiltz, formerly of New Orleans but for some years a resident of Richmond, Va., and for many years of Jacksonville, lies at death's door on a cot in St. Luke's Hospital, in this city, the result of injuries received from a fall last Monday night. He fell from the second-story balcony of a shop and struck the ground upon his forehead and nose, sustaining serious injuries, and it is believed that the base of his skull is fractured. Captain Wiltz had started up the stairway, and was nearly to the top, when he missed his footing and fell over the side through the glass hand-railing to the ground about 15 feet below. He fell head first, and was caught by a piece of old machinery, which was on the stairway, and it fell with him. A colored boy was the only one who saw the fall, but a young man working in the shop heard the noise and rushed out to see the cause. Captain Wiltz was unconscious when the men reached him and picked him up.

LITTLE CHANCE OF RECOVERY.

Dr. T. L. Irwin was sent for, and arrived in a few minutes. He found that Captain Wiltz had struck his forehead and nose, and that the base of his skull is fractured. His left arm appeared to be paralyzed, but no bones were broken. Dr. Irwin gave him all the first aid that could be expected. Today Dr. Miller, the hospital surgeon, reports the case as unimproved, and there is little hope for Captain Wiltz's recovery. He is conscious only at intervals, and thereafter falls into a deep sleep.

EVERY ATTENTION.

Two friends of the sick man, Mr. J. S. Smith, Jr., and Mr. George H. Fleming, are doing everything possible to alleviate his sufferings. For three whole days they have been attending to him, and at a late hour last night he was resting as well as could be expected. Today Dr. Miller, the hospital surgeon, reports the case as unimproved, and there is little hope for Captain Wiltz's recovery. He is conscious only at intervals, and thereafter falls into a deep sleep.

HIS RELATIVES.

As near as they can learn from him in his rational moments, he has a sister in New Orleans, who is the wife of Charles Harris, who Captain Wiltz says is connected with the Merchants National Bank, but the details of the case were not given. The case was not given to the public, but the details of the case were not given.

OUR PLAY-HOUSES.

"Pawnee Ticket" at the Academy—Mabel Paige at the Theatre.

A large and well-pleased audience, if one may judge from frequent laughter and applause, greeted "Pawnee Ticket" at the Academy of Music last evening.

The part of Marg, which was made famous by Lotta, was ably sustained by Miss Amy Lee, who was very bright, vivacious, and attractive, despite the fact that she was suffering from a severe cold.

Mr. H. H. Anderson, in the role of "Pawnee Ticket," was very effective, his death-scene being natural and striking.

The foot-ball team of the University of Virginia, which was defeated by the University of North Carolina, occupied the boxes at the invitation of Manager Latta.

The Virginia team received an ovation when they entered the theatre, and the University of Virginia players were given a warm reception.

eight clubs, a prominent party agreeing to put a club in Danville. This action insures a full league for next season, consisting of six clubs.

A five-mile limit was agreed upon, and some slight changes were made in the rule regarding division of gate receipts. The meeting adjourned to meet the first week in January, when permanent organization for next year will be effected, and committees on schedule, by-laws, etc., will be appointed, and officers elected.

The management of the Richmond club has already signed a number of first-class players, and the other clubs are making headway towards this end, and indications are that the league, which was organized last season, will be stronger during the season of 1895.

OVER-THE-RIVER NEWS.

Thanksgiving Observance—Fall of a Scaffold—Street Railway Notes—Personal.

The holiday was spent very quietly in Manchester. Religious services were held in the Fifth-Street Methodist and Memorial churches, and the ladies of the latter gave a dinner and supper at Toney's store, corner Eleventh and Hull streets, last evening.

Another large crowd gathered at Leader Hall last night in attendance upon the bazaar given by the ladies of the Fifth-Street Methodist church. Rev. Dr. A. E. Owen, of Norfolk, delivered his lecture on "How to Succeed in Life," and eight young ladies gave a shawl and tambourine drill. The bazaar closed to-night, when the Arion Quartette and Mr. Samuel Crowder will entertain the crowd.

There was a large crowd at the entertainment given by the ladies of the Fifth-Street Methodist church, and everybody present enjoyed the excellent program that was rendered. A sextette was rendered by gentlemen from Swansboro, Md., and a beautiful solo, and the entertainment closed with a sacred cantata called "Sir Money's Crusade."

ABOUT 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, while workmen were engaged on the new street car line, a scaffold, which was being erected, fell from the top of the building, and a negro was thrown to the ground, a distance of about ten feet. Fortunately none were hurt seriously, the injured received being scratched and bruised. The scaffold was torn down, and the men were sent to the street to run the car line.

AGAINST THE RAILWAY.

The jury in the suit of Moore's administrator vs. the Richmond and Manchester Street Railway Company returned a verdict for the railway company. The case was tried in the Chesterfield Circuit Court.

There was a great deal of surprise manifested at the Richmond and Manchester Street Railway Company's office, when it was learned that the jury had returned a verdict for the railway company. The case was tried in the Chesterfield Circuit Court.

Mr. W. G. Pilkinton, of Powhatan, who is a deputy internal-revenue collector, seized some contraband spirits, and after considerable discussion, he walked in upon a moonshiner's distillery.

The members very freely discussed the case at length, and the jury returned a verdict for the railway company. The case was tried in the Chesterfield Circuit Court.

THE WRIGHTS TRIAL.

TWO EASTERN SHORE MURDERERS ESCAPE THE GALLOWS.

Sentenced for Fifteen and Seventeen Years Respectively and Go to Jail During the Jury.

ONANCOCK, VA., November 29.—(Special.)—The trial of William and Arthur Wright for killing John H. Fisher about two months ago has been going on in Accomac County Court for the past three days, the evidence developed in the trial showed all the parties concerned to be desperate characters. A feud had long existed between Fisher and the Wrights. Some years ago Fisher was sent to the Virginia penitentiary for dangerously cutting one of his neighbors, with whom he had a quarrel. It is said that while Fisher was in the penitentiary his wife became too intimate with one of the Wrights. When Fisher's term expired he returned home, and the old feud broke out afresh. Last September Fisher and one of the Wrights met in a bar-room near Mappsville.

Fisher insisted that the Wright boys had set his fodder stacks on fire. Wright called him a liar, whereupon Fisher threw an empty pop bottle at Wright, and ran out of the store about five times at him with his pistol.

TO KILL FISHER.

Wright went home and aroused his brother and both started for the store armed to the teeth, and swearing they would kill Fisher on sight. Fisher also started home, but, meeting his wife and little son on the way, started back and told them to the store, where he had left his horse and cart.

Just before Fisher and his wife reached the store, the Wrights, who had concealed themselves, opened fire on Fisher, striking him in the left side and killing him almost instantly. Fisher had no arms on his person, and the Wrights were armed with shot-guns.

Ex-Senator Blackstone and N. B. Westcott ably defended the Wrights, and Commonwealth's Attorney Fletcher conducted the prosecution in a vigorous manner.

LIGHT SENTENCES.

The case was given to the jury last night, and the jury returned a verdict of murder in the second degree and fixing their terms of imprisonment in the penitentiary, one at fifteen, the other at seventeen years. The prisoners, both duly sentenced, were led back to jail uttering dire curses and imprecations on Judge, lawyers, and jury.

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Atlanta, Ga., November 29.—A meeting of the stockholders of the Southern Associated Press was held here to-day. The largest attendance of members was present since the organization of the association. The question of ratification of the memorandum of agreement between the United Press and the Executive Committee of the Southern Associated Press, made in New York on Monday, was the order of business.

The members very freely discussed the case at length, and the jury returned a verdict for the railway company. The case was tried in the Chesterfield Circuit Court.
